

The Center for Bio-Ethical Reform Midwest has been blessed with gifts made at the end of the tax year or through a provision in a member's will.

These gifts often come when a great opportunity has presented itself to further the cause of life. They have been and continue to be lasting testaments to lives lived selflessly — with the thought that no matter how small, weak or defenseless, all life matters!

These gifts are critical to the mission of the Center for Bio-Ethical Reform Midwest in bringing the truth of abortion to our nations youth, the abortion vulnerable, and voters.

Year End Giving

Stocks, Bonds and Mutual Funds

- ◆ Donate appreciated stocks, bonds, mutual funds to the Center for Bio-Ethical Reform Midwest and potentially avoid capital gains tax while claiming the amount of the gift as a tax deduction.
- ◆ Contact the Center for Bio-Ethical Reform Midwest's Executive Director for how-to instructions.

Personal Property

- ◆ Art, jewelry, vehicles or other objects of appreciated value may be donated.
- ◆ Check with a tax professional to maximize deductibility.

Leaving a Legacy for Life

Bequests

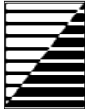

A bequest is a transfer of property or assets by will to a charitable organization. It can be one of cash, land, stocks, bonds, antiques or other objects of value.

Benefits:

- ◆ Possibility of making a larger gift to the Center for Bio-Ethical Reform than during your lifetime.
- ◆ Unlimited estate tax deduction for cash or other property when
- ◆ Assets are donated to a qualified charity.
- ◆ Reduction of the taxable portion of your estate and your estate's tax.

Trusts, Annuities and other income agreements

- ◆ Trusts/Annuities—consider making the Center for Bio-Ethical Reform Midwest a beneficiary of a share or the remaining interest of your trust.
- ◆ Insurance policies/pensions — the Center for Bio-Ethical Reform Midwest could be designated to share in all or part of the proceeds of a insurance policy or pension.

Leaving a Legacy for Life

Providing for the financial security of family and loved ones is the first priority of most estate plans. However, many individuals are blessed in such a way that there is also room to provide some measure for a cause or purpose that the individual has supported during his or her lifetime.

The fight for the right to life has never been so critical. While the debate over when life begins has been won, the battle over the sanctity of each human life hangs in the balance. At no other time has the fight for the Right to Life of each of God's special children commanded such a prominent and precarious position in our society, nor been the subject of such a debate at the federal and state legislative, judicial, and executive levels.

A provision in your estate plan making the Center for Bio-Ethical Reform Midwest a beneficiary has never been so greatly needed nor has it promised a greater reward.

The Center for Bio-Ethical Reform Midwest thanks you for considering the possibility of Leaving a Legacy for Life.

For More Information

We encourage those of you considering such a gift to consult with a professional who is qualified to give tax and legal advice to maximize the benefit of your gift for protecting the unborn while also providing for loved ones.

If you do not have a tax or legal advisor, you may contact:

Roger Weaver, Esq.
Weaver Law Offices, LLC
3 S. High St..
Canal Winchester, OH 43130
Phone: 614-834-1750
Email: rweaver@weaver-law.com

When donating gifts should be designated to "GMO—Gift Midwest Office"

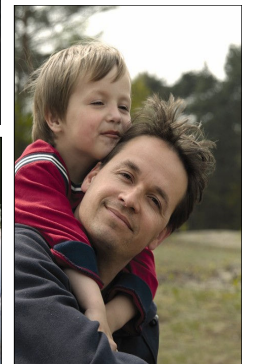

Center for Bio-Ethical Reform MIDWEST REGION

Center for Bio-Ethical Reform-Midwest
P.O. Box 360503
Columbus, Ohio 43236
Web: www.CBRMidwest.org
Email: CBRMidwest@cbrinfo.org
Tel. 614/759-5195
Fax: 614/759-5194

Planned Giving: Estate Planning

Leaving a Legacy For Life

Center for Bio-Ethical Reform

Midwest Region